DRAMA

Throughout the year, weekly Drama Clubs were well attended by enthusiastic Lower School and Middle School pupils. Middle School Drama Club enjoyed the added benefit of a committed team of Sixth Form students who helped participants develop their acting and improvisation skills.

All Third Form pupils took the opportunity to perform in a House Drama competition at the end of their examination week. The theme was Secrets and with the help of Sixth Formers, each house put on a short entertaining piece with IIIJ, under the guidance of Sixth Former Sean Cordelle, winning overall.

The Christmas Term saw three productions. Lower School Drama Club started the year with an ensemble production of Titanic by David Foxton, which was performed in the style of an Old Time Music Hall. This was directed by Mrs Wilde with the music being provided by Mr Cureton on the piano. Nearly 100 pupils from the three Lower School year groups were involved. Eva Penhallurick and Shona Eaton took charge of the stage as the Comedienne and Master of Ceremonies. There were many effective cameo roles and Caroline Gerard gave us a rousing version of Rule Britannia.

Middle School presented an excellent production of the modern classic Blood Brothers by Willie Russell, directed by Miss Pike. There were many accomplished performances with Sam Foxall and Callum Fisher taking the roles of twins Mickey and Eddie. They and Lucy Rosier who played Linda showed great skill in playing their characters as children and then as adults. Eleanor Thomas played Mrs Johnston with a convincing Liverpool accent and an excellent singing voice while Nicola Cronin engaged us as the tormented Mrs Lyons.

The Sixth Form production was a contemporary dress version of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream. Tom Gerard and Elysia Pemberton were superb as Oberon and Titania; Katie Dobson, Emma Hodgkinson, Philippe Marks and Reuben Robyns Llandricombe were excellent as the confused lovers and although the play was mainly acted by Sixth Formers, Puck was superbly played by Upper Fifth student Sally Farrant.

In the Easter term Mrs Fair, with Mr Perrins, as Musical Director, directed students in the ever popular Grease which sold out every night. Philippe Marks and Sarah Bradbury were Danny and Sandy and a record number of Sixth Formers took part in what was a fun filled, feel good production.

Finally, in the last week of the school year, Lower School pupils had fun putting on their own staged version of George Orwell's Animal Farm. The play was performed to a packed house in the Old Music School. It had pathos, humour, songs, a conga and puppets and was a great success. It was directed by Mrs Wilde; Mr Cureton provided musical accompaniment and Dr Jukes and Mr Hadley created an excellent set from hay bales and plastic sheeting!
